The American Society of Colon & Rectal Surgeons is the premier society for colon and rectal surgeons and other healthcare professionals dedicated to advancing the science and treatment of diseases and disorders affecting the colon, rectum and anus.

The Society has an audience of over 4,000 physician members, of which more than a third are certified by the American Board of Colon and Rectal Surgery.

ASCRS ANNUAL SCIENTIFIC MEETING
The ASCRS Annual Meeting is the leading event in the field of colon and rectal surgery. The 2023 Meeting in Seattle, Washington welcomed over 2,500 attendees, which was a record number of visitors.
A UNIQUE OPPORTUNITY FOR YOUR COMPANY

• Target influential decision makers
• Build visibility for your company in a competitive marketplace
• Expand your prospect base and strengthen existing customer relations
• Gather insight from surgeons regularly using products and services within your category
• Introduce new products and services
• Generate new sales leads
• Give product demonstrations
• Conduct market research
WHAT OUR INNOVATION PARTNERS HAVE TO SAY

🌟🌟🌟🌟🌟 We got some strong leads as a result of this meeting!

We were very busy on our exhibit area, and it went better than we anticipated. We are still following up on leads 3 months after the meeting!

🌟🌟🌟🌟🌟 A highlight for me every year is meeting old friends and customers I have been conducting business with for many years.

🌟🌟🌟🌟🌟 We had the opportunity to meet not only surgeons but other health professionals as well.

ACCREDATION GUIDELINES

ACCME Standards for Integrity and Independence in Accredited Continuing Education

The Standards for Integrity and Independence in Accredited Continuing Education reflect the values of the continuing education community. Independence from industry is the cornerstone of accredited continuing education. By achieving consensus on the Standards, ASCRS assures the delivery of high-quality learning experiences, and sustains the protection from industry bias and marketing that accreditation rules deliver.

Standards 4 and 5 Relate to Commercial Support and Managing Ancillary Activities Offered in Conjunction with Accredited Continuing Education

Standard 4 applies only to accredited continuing education that receives financial or in-kind support from ineligible companies. If ASCRS accepts commercial support (defined as financial or in-kind support from ineligible companies) ASCRS is responsible for ensuring that the education remains independent of the ineligible company and that the support does not result in commercial bias or commercial influence in the education. The support does not establish a financial relationship between the ineligible company and planners, faculty, and others in control of content of the education. ASCRS must make all decisions regarding the receipt and disbursement of the commercial support. Ineligible companies must not pay directly for any of the expenses related to the education or the learners. ASCRS may use commercial support to fund honoraria or travel expenses of planners, faculty, and others in control of content for those roles only. ASCRS must not use commercial support to pay for travel, lodging, honoraria, or personal expenses for individual learners or groups of learners in accredited education. ASCRS may use commercial support to defray or eliminate the cost of the education for all learners.

• Standard 5 applies only when there is marketing by ineligible companies or nonaccredited education associated with the accredited continuing education. ASCRS is responsible for ensuring that education is separate from marketing by ineligible companies—including advertising, sales, exhibits, and promotion—and from nonaccredited education offered in conjunction with accredited continuing education. Arrangements to allow ineligible companies to market or exhibit in association with accredited education must not: a. Influence any decisions related to the planning, delivery, and evaluation of the education.
• b. Interfere with the presentation of the education.
• c. Be a condition of the provision of financial or in-kind support from ineligible companies for the education.

• ASCRS must ensure that learners can easily distinguish between accredited education and other activities.
• a. Live continuing education activities: Marketing, exhibits, and nonaccredited education developed by or with influence from an ineligible company or with planners or faculty with unmitigated financial relationships must not occur in the educational space within 30 minutes before or after an accredited education activity. Activities that are part of the event but are not accredited for continuing education must be clearly labeled and communicated as such.
• b. Print, online, or digital continuing education activities: Learners must not be presented with marketing while engaged in the accredited education activity. Learners must be able to engage with the accredited education without having to click through, watch, listen to, or be presented with product promotion or product-specific advertisement.
• c. Educational materials that are part of accredited education (such as slides, abstracts, handouts, evaluation mechanisms, or disclosure information) must not contain any marketing produced by or for an ineligible company, including corporate or product logos, trade names, or product group messages.
• d. Information distributed about accredited education that does not include educational content, such as schedules and logistical information, may include marketing by or for an ineligible company.
• Ineligible companies may not provide access to, or distribute, accredited education to learners.
Continuing Medical Education Mission Statement
The American Society of Colon and Rectal Surgeons (ASCRS) is a community of health care professionals who are dedicated to advancing the understanding, prevention and treatment of disorders of the colon, rectum and anus.

Purpose
The purpose of the ASCRS' Continuing Medical Education (CME) activities is to provide lifelong learning opportunities for its members by meeting educational needs and closing the gap that exist between current and best practices to improve quality patient care.

Content
Content will be focused on prevention and management of disorders of the colon, rectum, and anus, as well as the professional practice of colorectal surgery.

Target Audience
Programs are intended for the education of colon and rectal surgeons nationally and internationally, as well as residents, fellows, general surgeons, and other healthcare professionals interested in the treatment and management of patients with disorders of the colon, rectum and anus.

Types of Activities
ASCRS activities include live, virtual, hybrid, and online enduring activities. ASCRS partners with other entities to provide accreditation for joint activities.

Expected Results
ASCRS educational programs are designed to advance individual member knowledge, skills, and professional competencies to improve the quality of patient care.
